"The same people who have been picking strawberries in California still will be picking our strawberries. They just will be doing it south of the border."

Opinion | Trump policies will move berry production to Mexico

Two hundred years ago, British economist David Ricardo outlined a theory of international trade based on the notion of comparative advantage.

Doreen Bongiovanni I noticed this myself and brought it up to a friend who is a supporter of Trump and was told that Trump's EO is only reversing the illegal acts of Obama. I was taught if you saw someone do something you figured was wrong you didn't do it yourself. However, there is a corollary to 2 wrongs don't make a right. it's called 2 can play at that game. Deep sigh.

'Los Angeles ranked first. The city has a heavier concentration of entertainment, media and PR jobs than any other metro area. And what types of entertainment jobs can you find in L.A.? Disney is currently looking for a manager of its Disney Channel Original Movies, which involves overseeing casting and coming up with new ideas for children's films. Other companies with many entertainment industry openings are Warner Bros., NBC Universal, Sony Pictures and Netflix, according to job ads on LinkedIn and Indeed. Los Angeles has an income-to-rent ratio of three-to-one, so your dollar goes further there compared with New York, Washington, D.C., and San Francisco.

The Best Cities For Entertainment, Media And P.R. Jobs

If you had to guess the top city for entertainment, media and PR jobs, your first thought would probably be Los Angeles. And you'd be right. But there are also many opportunities beyond Southern California.

"Although the media have characterized Bannon as the Disraeli of the dark side following his rise to power in the Trump administration, I knew him, and still do, as a deeply read and erudite observer of the American religious scene, with a keen appetite for mystical thought.

Ronald Reagan, a hero of his, was not dissimilar. As I've written in the Washington Post and elsewhere, Reagan, from the start of his political career in the 1950s up through the first term of his presidency, adopted phrasing and ideas from the writings of a Los Angeles-based occult scholar named Manly P. Hall (1901-1990), whose 1928 encyclopedia arcana "The Secret Teachings of All Ages" is among the most influential underground books in American culture."

Unlike · Reply · 1 · April 23 at 10:15pm

Richard King having grown up a little more than half an hour from the Maine coast, this is accurate. Although a Jetty doesn't have to be on fill, the material(usually large rocks or junks of concrete) is simply piled up until it breaks the surface of the water. I guess that can be considered fill, but then it would be built of fill, not on fill...Okay, I'm officially a geek.

Paul Kekai Manansala "Mortality rates were high in the Manila galleon trade — especially in the early years — with ships frequently arriving in Manila from Acapulco with only a fraction of their crew still alive. The rest died from starvation, disease and scurvy. Few wanted to risk the return trip to Acapulco, so Asians were hired and made up the majority of the crew. Filipinos were particularly valued for their seamanship."

'Despite an overall improvement in scores in 2016, significant—and in some cases dramatic—room for improvement remains across all the countries analyzed in this edition. It is true that many countries have implemented countrywide energy-reduction and GHG-reduction targets as well as a suite of complementary policies in an effort to spur energy savings, technology development, and economic development. Yet more needs to be done to improve sector-specific efficiency. This is particularly true in the transportation and buildings sectors, where the top scores were a mere 16 and 18 points, respectively, out of a possible 25.'

The International Energy Efficiency Scorecard

Regarding the man dragged off the United Airlines plane:

The Vietnamese name "David Dao" is very common and the Daily Mail did not do their research. The doctor on the plane is named David Thanh Duc Dao, MD. He has 4 children (all doctors) and his wife, also a doctor, owns a clinic south of Louisville. He has no criminal past of any kind.

The OTHER man with a criminal past, who lives 60 miles from Louisville, is named David Anh Duy Dao. Similar name but different person.

United has been running a smear campaign against Dr. Dao to ward off bad press and potential lawsuits. They misidentified him as a criminal, and the Daily Mail reported the misidentification without vetting the story.

I wonder how much they make in residuals.

"... Dorn had mentioned he turned down a role because they only offered him less than one percent of what he'd made the last time he played the character. That would be Star Trek: Nemesis in 2002. Of course, actors tend to get paid more for motion pictures, but many of the mainstay actors on The Next Generation were getting paid $1 million per episode by the end. Dorn wasn't doing too shabby either way. "

Some small changes can really improve your health!

How to get rid of any illness

- douche with green tea
- eat an entire jar of coconut oil everyday
- cut gluten, eggs, dairy, MSGs, meats, oxygen, and sugar out of your diet
- never stop doing yoga, you have to do it every second of your life. Sleep in downward dog, shower in warrior position, walk on your hands
- shove kale up your ass

And last, but not least

- just be happy all the time. You know, the only real disability in life is a bad attitude

Robert R. Mackey Important data. I would have like to have seen the spending per student by district as well. That would have been telling--are the numbers due to racism in the educational system itself, cultural issues (e.g., different groups respect education at different levels), or the movement of funding to predominantly white school districts from less wealthy non-white districts?

We've already seen the negative environmental impacts of existing fences on the border for more than a decade. New additions to the wall would only exacerbate that problem, as they would divide ecosystems and cut off migration routes for species that are struggling to survive.

'An independent study by the British Journal of Criminology found that since total decriminalization, addiction has fallen, and injecting drug use is down by 50 percent. I'll repeat that: injecting drug use is down by 50 percent. Decriminalization has been such a manifest success that very few people in Portugal want to go back to the old system. The main campaigner against the decriminalization back in 2000 was Joao Figueira, the country's top drug cop. He offered all the dire warnings that we would expect from the Daily Mail or Fox News. But when we sat together in Lisbon, he told me that everything he predicted had not come to pass — and he now hopes the whole world will follow Portugal's example.'

Gila Shoshannah Deiah (shakes head) if people don't support local businesses.. they won't be there . .but no, everyone flocks to Walmarts and then complains about the corporations taking over. Remember people.. you only get to VOTE once in a while but you actually VOTE for who gets control every day.. WITH YOUR WALLET

Mary Washington This is a collusion between the government, Walton and the universities. Nothing gets this big without the help of the government's power.
